Cast plaster structure kits have part numbers without a suffix. Wood or styrene structure kits are identified with an "L" suffix on the part number signifying they are laser cut. Cast resin (urethane) structure kits are identified with a "R" suffix. Most detail parts are white metal castings. A few parts are plastic castings and they are identified with the letter "P" following the stock number. There are also a few laser cut details parts.

Currently we do not have an illustrated catalogue. We are working on one and hope to have it available later in the year. Our web site does have photos of most of the structures and parts. If you have any questions give us a call. Our hours are 9am to 9pm Mon-Sat. If no is in, leave a message and I will get back to you. Usually when no one can answer your call is because we have gone into town to UPS or to lunch, etc., or at a show. We work out of our home and where most of you have the basement or garage dedicated to your railroad, we have our shop for manufacturing the kits.

Our laser cut structure kits may be discontinued without notice. Pricing may change without notice, so please be sure to check current pricing by calling us at 800-653-8214, thanks and happy modeling!

The Backwoods Miniatures kits are not a stocking item. We will order them for you if you wish although it is easy to order direct from Backwoods. We list them here because they are great kits. We have built at least one or two of each of the kits listed and over 25 of the Porter kits. So, if you like small Sn3 these kits are for you. I also offer help for those who do purchase one of their kits and need pointers in building them.
